Nationwide Coverage With A Hometown Feel

At AeroFlow Sleep, we understand being diagnosed with sleep apnea is scary. That's why we provide nationwide coverage with a hometown feel.

AeroFlow Sleep is expanding its territories every day, so our licensed medical professionals can meet you where sleep happens: in the home.

Via telehealth or physically at your bedside, we offer 1:1 appointments for the set up of your PAP device, plus 24/7 access to your very own online Patient Portal.

All you have to do to get started is qualify:

CURRENT PROJECTS: DAYTIME PAP THERAPY

Daytime PAP therapy? But sleep apnea occurs while you're sleeping. You know, at nighttime.

Introducing eXcite OSA; an oral application that sends small vibrations to the areas of the upper airway most likely affected by mild OSA.

By activating the nerves in your neck, throat, and tongue, eXcite OSA trains your muscles to return to their natural state, improving the obstruction no matter what time of day.

The best part of all: Aeroflow Sleep now offers eXcite OSA to patients with mild OSA or primary snoring! Call 1-800-480-5491 to see if you are eligible for this revolutionary product.

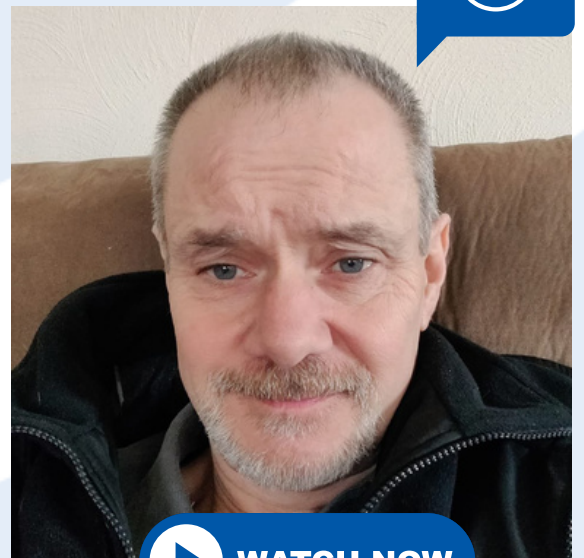

TAKE IT FROM OUR PATIENTS

Ken Price recently joined the Aeroflow Sleep family, getting his new Resvent iBreeze CPAP machine covered up to 100% through insurance.

With great enthusiasm, he approached Aeroflow Sleep and asked that we record his ringing endorsements; including how he "had not seen [customer support so good] since the 80s."

Please watch this real sleep apnea patient recount what Aeroflow Sleep can do for you.

IN THE KNOW WITH AEROFLOW

NAVIGATING NOT ONE BUT TWO PHILIPS RECALLS

In June 2021, Philips Respironics issued a voluntary recall on certain PAP devices, because the sound abatement foam was releasing potentially carcinogenic debris when exposed to high heat; the same high heat commonly used in CPAP cleaners.

Last month, several CPAP masks were also recalled by Philips Respironics, because the magnets used to connect parts of the masks could interfere with certain metallic medical devices or metallic objects in the body; such as pacemakers, stents, implants, etc.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR PATIENTS

It was instructed by the Food & Drug Administration (FDA) that any patients affected by either recall stop using the device and consult their physician about other options. Aeroflow Sleep is taking that one step further:

GET SET UP WITH A CPAP MACHINE

Although it is the responsibility of Philips Respironics to replace your recalled PAP machine, Aeroflow Sleep can simply get you a new one if your CPAP machine is more than 5 years old. Our stock is constantly being replenished despite nationwide shortages, so we can ship yours within weeks; not months.

SWITCH TO A NON-MAGNETIC CPAP MASK

Masks that have been ordered from Aeroflow Sleep can be swapped out for free within the first 30 days of use. And if yours doesn't meet that requirement, Aeroflow Sleep can still provide you with a non-magnetic CPAP mask through insurance; setting you up for success with an endless variety of different fits.
