

ALL THINGS AEROFLOW SLEEP NEWSLETTER

Has Your Sleep Doctor Met Us?

Whether you're located in the big city or a small town, Aeroflow Sleep ships anywhere in the continental U.S.

That's great, but we don't have representation in all of those states...yet. This year, we've taken time to grow our presence, with boots on the ground, across 20 states.

Yours might be one of them!

Not only does this enable us to help you get set up with the best PAP supplies faster, it allows us to help other sleep apnea patients who also see your sleep doctor to receive the same opportunities.

Advocate for you and your fellow man!

Answer 3-5 questions and have your doctor meet with an Aeroflow Sleep representative one-on-one.

TAKE SURVEY

In This Issue

Current Projects

Now Showing

In The Know
With Aeroflow

Blogs & Press

Contact Us

CURRENT PROJECTS: WAKING UP TO THE FUTURE

Patients and prospects who have recently visited the Aeroflow Sleep website may have noticed that our logo has a fresh look.

The new logo is part of a full rebranding that will slowly be unveiled to you over the next few months, fitting the initiatives in the works at Aeroflow Sleep.

This project encompasses all of the divisions within our parent company, including our parent company, who will soon come to be known as Aeroflow Health. Needless to say, it is the most comprehensive visual exercise we have ever undertaken.

Our goal in doing this is to develop fresh, creative pieces that capture the attention and resonate with current and future patients. After all, our visuals are how you see us, and we hope you do see us.

WEISS WORDS: WHAT ARE THE 3 TYPES OF CPAP MASKS?

Maybe you're new to CPAP and have never worn a mask before, or maybe your sleep apnea is chronic but you haven't quite found the right mask for you.

In either case, in our latest episode of "Weiss Words," Dr. Carleara Weiss takes a deep dive into the differences between your full-face, nasal, and nasal pillows CPAP masks.

WATCH NOW

IN THE KNOW WITH AEROFLOW

WHAT IS A DEDUCTIBLE?

A deductible, as it's applied to health insurance, is the amount you have to pay for a medical service or product before your insurance plan will cover any part of the same service or product.

How Much Is My Deductible?

During open enrollment, you choose if you want a low-deductible or high-deductible insurance plan. For example, you may pay $500 before your insurance begins to cover the cost, or $1,000.

If you're prone to accidents, you should choose a low-deductible insurance plan, because you don't want to wait for insurance to pay. If you're usually very healthy, you can opt for a high-deductible plan, because your coinsurance will be lower.

What Happens Once I've Met My Deductible?

Once your deductible is met, or you've paid the low or high amount on your own, your insurance will begin to cover the cost of in-network medical expenses, after coinsurance is applied.

Your insurance provider still determines for which practices and/or items they are willing to pay; this list makes up what's in-network. Then, coinsurance is the percentage you are obligated to pay both before and after your deductible is met. Sometimes, it's nothing, or in the case of Medicare, it's 20%.

Use It Or Lose It

Meeting your deductible is a big achievement! It's literally money that you have already spent, so best make the most of it...otherwise, you will lose it.

Deductibles reset at the end of every year, and since we're coming up on 2024, consider this your reminder to order new CPAP supplies. Your insurance may pay for them in full, but hurry! Your order must ship by December 29, 2023 to apply this year's deductible.

Call 1-800-480-5491. Must be diagnosed with sleep apnea to qualify.

MEDICALNEWS TODAY

CAFFEINE MAY DELAY REM SLEEP, ALTER BLOOD FLOW TO THE BRAIN

READ PRESS

CAN I TREAT SLEEP APNEA WITHOUT CPAP MASKS? YES, WITH BLEEP SLEEP ECLIPSE

READ BLOG

CONTACT US

Regular Business Hours:
Monday - Friday
9 AM - 5 PM EST

Phone: 1-800-480-5491 | Fax: 1-866-903-3640

Email: info@aeroflowsleep.com

Your inquiry is very important to us!