

ALL THINGS AEROFLOW SLEEP NEWSLETTER

Newly Enrolled in Medicare?

Whether you just turned 65 or made the switch to avoid losing Public Health Emergency (PHE) coverage, AeroFlow Sleep welcomes anyone who may be new to Medicare and obtaining PAP supplies through their plan.

Our patients can use Medicare as their primary or secondary insurance and still get their PAP supplies covered up to 100%. Plus, when you see if you qualify now through the end of April, you will be entered to WIN OUR SPRING AWAKENING GIVEAWAY!

If you have been diagnosed with sleep apnea but have yet to try AeroFlow Sleep, sign up below:

CHECK YOUR ELIGIBILITY

In This Issue

Current Projects

Now Showing

In The Know
With AeroFlow

Blogs & Press

Contact Us

CURRENT PROJECTS: EXPANDING OUR NETWORK

Aeroflow Sleep is constantly looking to become a better resource wherever you may find yourself online. That's why we've expanded our social network to include LinkedIn!

Unlike our other social accounts, Aeroflow Sleep's LinkedIn speaks directly to the healthcare community; including insurance providers, clinicians, doctors, and business partners.

That doesn't mean that patients like you aren't welcome to follow us too, of course! You may find yourself in awe of our internal operations and decide to apply for a job.

So, check us out on LinkedIn! We can't wait to share all of the ways Aeroflow Sleep is here for you, behind the scenes.

FOLLOW US ON LINKEDIN

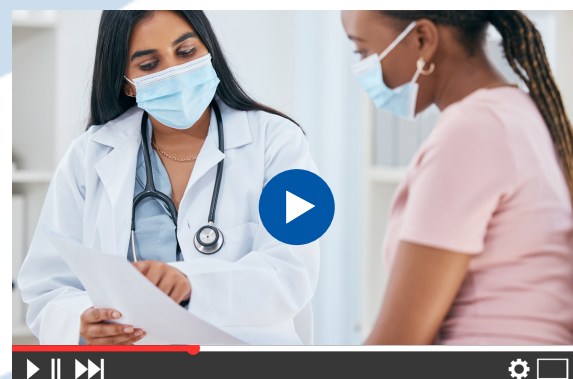

NOW SHOWING

THE SEASON 2 PREMIERE OF "WEISS WORDS"

Aeroflow Sleep's most watched YouTube series is back! On Saturday, Dr. Carleara Weiss returned for a second season of "Weiss Words."

Here, she's talking about how sleep apnea is diagnosed and why Aeroflow Sleep recommends a sleep study in a sleep lab. Tune in now!

WATCH NOW

IN THE KNOW WITH AEROFLOW

WHO IS THE DOCTOR WHO DIAGNOSED MY SLEEP APNEA?

During AeroFlow Sleep's sign up-process for PAP supplies, we ask you a lot of detailed questions about your current equipment, your insurance plan, and who the doctor is who diagnosed your sleep apnea.

Patients will often enter the name of their primary care doctor or general practitioner (GP.) After all, GPs are the ones we see most often and who we are most likely to remember.

Unfortunately, if your GP did not diagnose you or—at the very least—recommend you for the sleep study, insurance will not cover any supplies prescribed by them.

HOW TO GUARANTEE INSURANCE WILL ACCEPT A PRESCRIPTION

The easiest way to guarantee insurance will accept a prescription for PAP supplies is to get the name of the doctor who performed your sleep study. They are the true sleep doctors who diagnosed you.

WHAT IF I DON'T KNOW MY SLEEP DOCTOR'S NAME?

If you don't know the name of the doctor who performed your sleep study, don't worry; AeroFlow Sleep can track that information down for you. All we really need is the name of the hospital or sleep clinic where your test was performed. However, this extra step will delay your PAP supply order.

HAVEN'T BEEN DIAGNOSED? NOW, YOU SHOULD CALL YOUR GP

If you haven't been diagnosed with sleep apnea yet, you can't get PAP supplies! Talk to your GP about a sleep study, and only if your test comes back positive will you then be able to start your journey with AeroFlow Sleep.

HOW OFTEN MAY I REPLACE PAP SUPPLIES? (PLUS, WHEN INSURANCE COVERS THEM)

READ BLOG

HOW TO TREAT SPRING SLEEPINESS AND OTHER SEASONAL SLEEP ISSUES

READ PRESS

CONTACT US

Regular Business Hours:
Monday - Friday
9 AM - 5 PM EST

Phone: 1-800-480-5491 | Fax: 1-866-903-3640

Email: info@aeroflowsleep.com

Your inquiry is very important to us!